

The first sign of trouble (the inciting incident) is when...

One of the smaller conflicts in the story is...

What happens right after the turning point in the story is...

If I could change the resolution, I would...

What's interesting about the antagonist is...

My favorite part of the rising action is when...

The protagonist (main character) seems...

I can tell that the setting...

The title is meaningful because...

The most significant conflict happens when...

The most significant change I see in the protagonist is ...

The antagonist makes me think...

The way the protagonist coped with the conflict was...

Another good title for this story could be...

One thing I noticed about the protagonist is...

A good summary of the story is...

I wish the antagonist in the story would...

An example of internal conflict is when...